"Living with Fragile X" takes a rare and intimate look at the lives of several families who live with a member affected by fragile X syndrome.

Fragile X is the leading cause of inherited mental disability and the leading known cause of autism. The disorder drastically and forever changes the lives of the children, parents and family members it touches. But fragile X goes largely undiagnosed or misdiagnosed because it is virtually unknown to the public and often to the medical community.

"Living with Fragile X" explains what fragile X is and how it is passed, exposes the day-to-day challenges faced by those who have fragile X and reveals the frustrations of parents and their fears for what the future holds.

"Living with Fragile X is the best film I have ever seen on fragile X syndrome and developmental disability."

- Steve Warren Ph.D. Emory University

"This video delivers the information so much better than I can - and I think it sticks with people who see it. You don't forget it."

- Bonnie Korman, parent, Minnesota
